Before a large and interested body of pale, and knelt down and offered a prayer to Omnipotence for the success of his fathers. It is said a voice spoke out from behind the cloud that veiled the brightness of Jehovah's throne, "Let victory perch on Liberty's banner!" King George unloosed the British lion from his lair, and our father uncaged the proud bird of Jove, and on the sors, making the "pestilence that walketh in darkness, and the destruction that waiteth at noonday." We have a young party not yet 40 years of age—a party born of Providence to save the Nation in war, to protect American industries in peace [cheers], and that stands by the honor and dignity of American labor. [Cheers.] A party not 40 years of age, yet in the grand march of civil progress, in development taken the last $20 gold piece as his salary and if you had been near the President about that time, you could have heard him singing, as it went into his pocket: "Farewell, vain world, I'm going home." [Laughter.] They gave us more. They gave us a country with her industries paralyzed; they closed up and drew out the fires of your great rolling-mills and factories, and had chained up the great to buy them at par, and he wrote back a letter to Mr. Buchanan, saying that he didn't sell very well [laughter], but he could get the States to indorse them, thought they would go. Why, the idea of indorsing a little State to indorse the Government bonds of 40,000,000 of people. Why to something that becomes you better; top slippery elm poles and nail on the posts and stuffed with snuff box and then throw to the breeze dirty bandanas. [Laughter and cheer]

Talk about Jackson Democracy!
I wouldn't know the party if he was
It reminds me very much of an anecdote an incident which is said to have happened during the war. It was just after of the battles between the armies under product for $225,000,000. Suppose that half of these wage-workers are men and that each has a family of five or six (which is a small number for this country). You would have there 450,000 mouths to feed on American beef, American pork, American wheat and American potatoes, making a market for the American farmer. That is right. The Democrats say "Don't let it come in free from England."

FACTS FOR VOTERS.

THE OVERSHADOWING ISSUE OF PROTECTION TO LABOR.

Wages at Home and Abroad.—Striking Contrasts.—A Cowardly Party.—Harrison and John.—"Protection's All Right"—A Tariff Lesson.—Campaign Notes.

(New York Sun (Dem.)) There is only one country in Europe in which the wages of labor are within a half of what they are in this country. That is Great Britain.

Wages in Germany, France, Belgium and Switzerland are not one-third of what they are here. Those of Italy are not one-quarter. One duty of Government is to protect the labor of its citizens. Last year cheap foreign labor was imported into the United States in the shape of manufactured goods to the value of $92,410,783. This was a great wrong to American labor. In that immense amount of imports, permitted by our insufficient and defective tariff, the labor of women employed in the Manchester (England) cotton mills, and when in competition with the higher-priced labor of our southern and northern cotton spinners. In that mass of imports was the labor of German factory workmen averaging less than $1.15 a day, and that of women averaging less than $0.50 a day.

Manich is a gallery and center of art. German women with as many as six children saw wood in its streets for 15 cents a day. May a merciful God sink the United States if the spectacle under the sea before the hideous spectacle shall become an incident of our civilization. Nearly $700,000,000 worth of the starvation labor of Europe in the form of manufactured goods imported into this country last year. That which came from Belgium in bales and boxes represented the wages of 22 cents a day for women and 45 cents for men, and the highest-priced labor in loose cargoes of Belgium steel and iron represented wages less than 80 cents a day. Compared with these wages of Carnegie's men at Braddock are the incomes of princes.

Italian labor in Italian merchandise was imported into this country last year in competition with American labor, at prices that should fill sensible souls with horror and alarm the thoughtful for the future of the human race. The pay in the cotton factories of Naples is 20 cents a day; of the Neapolitan marble and granite cutters from 40 to 50 cents a day, according to skill; of coachmen, 30 cents; of women in lace factories, 10 cents, and girls, 7 cents; of soldiers in the army, $2 a month. Of all the workmen in the glass works of Italy, only the skilled blowers received as high as $1 a day, and laborers on farms, hoeing or making hay, from 15 to 18 cents a day, working from sun to sun. God save America from such wages!

In the Swiss silk goods which came into our half-protected country last year in those $700,000,000 imports, was the skilled labor of men at 47 cents a day and of women at 29 cents, both competing with the silk weaver of Paterson, New York, Philadelphia and Cheney, Glasgow, in Scotland, and the ship factory of the world, and his blast-furnace owners and iron-rollers howl for free trade day and night. Of the families in that manufacturing Sodom, 41,000 out of 100,000 live in one room, and half of the men and women in the city are chronically out of work. That one room for a family of father, mother, daughters and sons tell what wages are in Scotland, and how they drag humanity down into bestiality and crime.

Brothers, the Mills Bill to reduce the tariff is the first step to that one room for an American family. Fight it without delay, and fight it to its death; and then make your tariff so protective as to shut out cheap foreign labor in the form of manufactured goods.

HOW PROTECTION PROTECTS.

Practical Difference Between Labor Conditions at Home and Abroad.

William Barbour, of the Barbour Flax Spinning Company, Paterson, N. J., speaking of the tariff, says: "Our concern was founded over 100 years ago at Lisburn, Ireland, and from there we supplied all our foreign trade. When the protective policy was adopted by the United States we found it to our advantage to build a factory over here at Paterson, N. J., to supply this market. Meanwhile, the home plant supplied the rest of our trade. Now, however, many has adopted a strong protective policy, and we have been forced to build a factory there. For 40 years our mills in Ireland have supplied that trade, but in a few months our factory at Lisburn, Ireland, will be completed, and then we can supply the German market from that factory. Now, in that factory we will perhaps employ 500 hands to begin with. In the United States we employ between 1500 and 1800 in the Paterson factories. Two years ago I made a careful comparison of the wages paid in our Paterson and Lisburn factories. In the former we had at that time 1500 hands and in the latter 2500. Now, in two weeks these 2500 operatives in Ireland drew only $500 more pay than the 1500 operatives in Paterson drew. Of these 2500 and more operatives in Ireland there is not one who owns the house he lives in. But in Paterson many have bought and paid for comfortable homes. If a man working for me wants to build a house, I am only too glad to lend him the money, for I know he will be more ambitious and a better workman in consequence of it. Or if one of my employees has saved up money and wants to invest, I will borrow it and pay 6 per cent. for it. I have in my mind now two girls who have saved up $1700 apiece. They have deposited the money with me, and we pay 6 per cent. for it. I mention these things simply to show the difference between the employees in our two factories. None of our employees in Ireland ever had wages enough to be able to have money at interest, to say nothing of owning a home. The Paterson employees, on the other hand, have been able to do so. You can see how much better off they are here than they were there. I never yet had one ask me to let him return to Ireland and work in that factory, but every time I go to see the operatives come in crowds and beg for a chance to come over here. Within the past five years we have paid an average of $60,000 a year duty on thread. Labor formed such a large percentage of the cost in this thread that it was more profitable for us to make it over there than here. This is under the present tariff of 40 per cent. The Mills Bill reduces the tariff to 25 per cent. What will be the result? Instead of decreasing revenue to the Government on this particular article, such a reduction would increase it three-fold, because we would make a great deal less thread here and a great deal more over there. This, of course, is providing we were to continue to make the same wages here we are paying now. During the past three years or so the revenue on linen thread has been growing smaller and smaller, owing to the increase in factories and facilities here for making it. If the Government wants to lessen the revenue from this thread, let it increase the tariff, then only the very finest grades, which we cannot make here with our well-paid labor, would be imported."

A PLAIN TARIFF LESSON.

Laboring Men, Read This, Then Think, Act and Vote.

Last summer, in Brussels, Belgium, I stood watching some skilled blacksmiths welding a steel car-spring, such as we see on all our freight trains. When I asked a strong fellow how much he got, he wiped the steaming sweat from his brow on his shirt sleeve and said: "I get 50 cents a day."

"Is this enough to support you?" I asked. "I have a wife and five children," he said, "and we do not starve."

"I have asked the proprietor of the machine shop an hour afterwards, why he didn't pay those skilled men more, he said: "Because I'm handicapped. I sell my car springs in New York Harbor with $100 worth of car springs I have to salute your American flag and give up $50 as duty. I only get $50 for what your manufacturer gets $100."

"Where does this $50 that you pay as duty come from?" I asked. "Why, it comes from my men's wages. That is why I can only pay 50 cents per day, while your Americans pay $1.50."

"But suppose our Government should take off this tariff and let your car springs in free?" I asked. "What?" he exclaimed, "and let me secure $100 where I now get $50?"

"Yes, that is it."

"Why, I'd flood you with car springs. I'd fill New York harbor with them," he continued enthusiastically. "But would this not break up our workmen who are getting $1.50 a day for making these car springs in America?" I asked.

"Yes, it would break them up for a while, but—"

"But how long would it break them up?" I interrupted. "Why, sir, until they were willing to work for 50 cents a day like our men."

"But that is the condition in America," I said, "you tell our laboring men that free trade would not disturb their wages."

"And these poor laborers listen to them?" I asked. "Harrie do," he answered.

"Well," said the Belgian manufacturer, "you tell our laboring men for men that it is this tariff which keeps their wages up higher than ours, and tell them if any demagogue shall ever talk such nonsense to them, they will again throw him into the sea. He is the enemy of the American laboring man."

HARRISON AND THE CHINA MAN.
The Republican Candidate Sound Enough for California.
The Boston Globe, a Democratic paper, has secured from ex-Gov. John F. Harrison, of New York, a statement of Gen. Harrison's position on the Chinese question. A careful perusal by any fair-minded workman cannot but convince him that Gen. Harrison's record is square on the issue.

"Harrison," when Senator, voted in 1882 against what was called the Page Bill. It was a bill which, as he and many other sound lawyers believed, violated the provisions of the treaty then existing between the United States and China, and there was, therefore, no other way in which he could honestly vote, being a statesman and not a demagogue.

But as to excluding the Chinese and stopping the outrageous system by which they were dumped upon the Pacific Coast, he was in favor of accomplishing that object in the only way possible—by some bill that should be in harmony with existing treaty obligations, or by making a new treaty that would insure equality. In fact, the measure, after it became law, was found to be ineffectual, and further legislation was necessary. A bill was therefore introduced two or three years ago in the Forty-ninth Congress by Mr. Morrow in the House and Senator Fair in the Senate. In the latter it was referred to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, of which Senator Harrison was a member.

It was a vigorous bill, carefully prepared by members of Congress representing the New China, and approved by United States officials who were familiar with the difficulties of enforcing Chinese exclusion. It was drawn by Mr. Morrow, who had been Assistant United States District Attorney, and it was an admirable work of legislation. The Senate Committee unanimously reported it back favorably, and it passed the Senate with no dissenting vote, Senator Harrison, therefore, voting for it, although Senator Hoar, it should in justice to his position be said, opposed it in a debate.

It is said that in 1882 Harrison voted against an amendment of Senator Farley providing that no court should admit Chinese to citizenship. But, as Senator Edmunds then pointed out, our naturalization law already forbade Chinese naturalization. It had been so decided in the courts. Senator Edmunds therefore proposed a substitute for Farley's amendment, as follows: "Nothing in this act shall be construed to change the existing naturalization laws so as to admit Chinese persons to citizenship." Senator Harrison preferred the Edmunds amendment to the Farley amendments, as any sensible man well might, and voted for the former. The bill covered the very point sought for in the anti-Chinese interest.

A COWARDLY PARTY.

The President as a Free-trade Dodger, Evading the Issue.

(Washington Special.) The Washington Post fires its last gun before the change in its management, and thus puts the whole crowd of nativists and Democrats to shame. "Why should any honest Democrat take flight or offense when he is called a free-trader, or when his party is designated the free-trade party? Is not taxed practically free when it is taxed 10 per cent only? Is not that what is meant by free trade all the world over? No party or faction is in favor of abolishing taxes on imports. The Democratic party, by its national declaration of 1876 and 1880; by the President's message, which is its platform in 1888; by the recent speeches of its leaders in the tariff debate in the House of Representatives; by the President's Fourth of July letter to Tammany—by all these, and by its traditions, its history, its inspirations and its hopes, the Democratic party is committed to the emancipation of trade from protective taxation; committed to a policy that leads directly to the consummation of Democratic desire—a tariff for revenue only. He who is opposed to this does not belong to the Cleveland side in this campaign. . . . In his Tammany letter he complains that he and those who are with him in his tariff policy are called free-traders; but, in the same letter, he vigorously attacks the protection theory. His avowed protectionists, that they advocate a system which benefits certain classes of our citizens at the expense of every household in the land; a system which breeds discontent because it permits the duplication of wealth without corresponding additional recompense to labor, which prevents the opportunity to work by stilling production and limiting the areas of our markets, and which enforces the cost of living beyond the laborer's hard-earned wages."

"A system? What does that mean if it does not mean protection, a tariff for protection as opposed to the Democratic system of tariff for revenue—which is just what free traders mean by the word 'free trade'—that it is the 'system' that they advocate, the President says, is a very bad 'system.' Why? Because it benefits certain classes at the expense of every household; because it breeds discontent; because it permits the duplication of wealth without corresponding recompense to labor; because it 'stifles production' and 'enhances the cost of living beyond the laborer's hard-earned wages.'"

"When a President, a candidate for reelection on his own revenue reform plank, makes such a plea as that for the emancipation of trade, and in the same breath complains of being 'branded,' as a free trader, he 'remembers each and every loss to the craft a feather or to down a fly.' Braced up, Mr. President, you have undertaken to lead your party in a tremendous onslaught on the citadel of the opposition. Don't waste your energies on such a course, by which the opposition chooses to call you. Don't you profess to aim at the emancipation of trade? If so, don't be scared when you are 'branded' as a free trader. The Mills Bill is, to be sure, only a step in the revenue tariff direction, but it is a high protective tariff. The principle is there, and that is why the bill is upheld by Democrats and fought by Republicans. It presents the issues just as clearly as it would if it went three times as far."

PROHIBITION IN THE SOUTH.

Its Trifling Effect On the Solidity of That Section.

(Democrat Republican.) To offset the charge that the purpose of the third party is to break up the Republican party, their speakers this year are going about the country telling the people that down South the Democrats are fearfully alarmed on account of the Free-Trade movement. That our readers may know how threatening the danger is, we append the Democratic and Prohibition vote of the solid South at the last Presidential election:

	Dem.	Pro.
Alabama.....	99,051	6,212
Arkansas.....	72,927	1,523
Delaware.....	16,964	55
Florida.....	31,766	73
Georgia.....	94,967	193
Kentucky.....	102,961	3,138
Louisiana.....	63,540	3,96
Maryland.....	96,823	2,794
Mississippi.....	76,510	1,301
Missouri.....	235,998	2,153
North Carolina.....	142,953	454
South Carolina.....	101,953	1,131
Tennessee.....	133,528	1,131
Texas.....	225,309	3,554
Virginia.....	145,497	138
West Virginia.....	67,317	959
	1,718,420	13,361

The foregoing figures speak for themselves, and these are the States that constitute the solid South and furnish the 153 electoral votes, requiring only 45 more from the Northern States to elect a Democratic President, and the mission of the third party seems to be to furnish these 45 necessary electoral votes by defeating the Republican party in doubtful States. Another fact. Out of the 150,398 votes for John the solid South cast only 13,361, while the Northern States—which would all unquestionably be Republican were it not for the third party—furnished 132,038.

PROTECTION'S ALL RIGHT.

What It Has Done in These United States.

(Mississippi Tribune.) In fact, the measure, after it became law, was found to be ineffectual, and further legislation was necessary. A bill was therefore introduced two or three years ago in the Forty-ninth Congress by Mr. Morrow in the House and Senator Fair in the Senate. In the latter it was referred to the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, of which Senator Harrison was a member.

It was a vigorous bill, carefully prepared by members of Congress representing the New China, and approved by United States officials who were familiar with the difficulties of enforcing Chinese exclusion. It was drawn by Mr. Morrow, who had been Assistant United States District Attorney, and it was an admirable work of legislation. The Senate Committee unanimously reported it back favorably, and it passed the Senate with no dissenting vote, Senator Harrison, therefore, voting for it, although Senator Hoar, it should in justice to his position be said, opposed it in a debate.

It is said that in 1882 Harrison voted against an amendment of Senator Farley providing that no court should admit Chinese to citizenship. But, as Senator Edmunds then pointed out, our naturalization law already forbade Chinese naturalization. It had been so decided in the courts. Senator Edmunds therefore proposed a substitute for Farley's amendment, as follows: "Nothing in this act shall be construed to change the existing naturalization laws so as to admit Chinese persons to citizenship." Senator Harrison preferred the Edmunds amendment to the Farley amendments, as any sensible man well might, and voted for the former. The bill covered the very point sought for in the anti-Chinese interest.

It has enabled the United States to earn more than 55 per cent. of the increase of wealth of the earth during the past twenty-six years. It has made our internal commerce nine times that of the entire commerce of the rest of the world. It has developed tremendous manufacturing industries, which have given employment and good wages to hundreds of thousands; has developed resources before unthought of, and has created markets for our products. It has been a source of income and profit to the farmer.

It has, besides, stimulated the inventive faculty of our people, and has offered such rewards and premiums for labor-saving devices that no other people.

What is the matter with the policy that has done all this?

To us it appears to be all right.

Campaign Notes.

The Democratic party of Illinois is posing as the friend of the colored man. Good joke.

Not an English newspaper has yet said a word in praise of Harrison and Morton and the Republican platform.

Congressman Mills says he is able to sleep, now that his bill has got through the House. The bill is destined to follow his example.

Thirty-seven anti-free-trade Democrats have joined the Independent Protective Association of the Eighteenth New York Assembly District.

The Rev. Dr. Lorrimer, the Chicago Baptist over whose conversion the Prohibitionists are so loudly rejoicing, is a convert from Democracy.

The Dramatic Times, which has hitherto been neutral in politics, has come out for Harrison and Morton, and urges actors to form Republican clubs.

Scott, the Erie millionaire, and it probably explains why he is shouting for free trade.—[Boston Journal.] Four of the leading men in the management of the Democratic campaign—Bryce, Barnum, Scott, and Sewell—were all connected with 35 different railroads.

The Henry George party, which was expected to decide the Presidential election this year, cannot muster enough voters to entitle it to inspectors of election under the New York law.

"As 'Morey' has been lost and the 'free whisky' cry proven to be a boomerang, the Democracy will soon be compelled to advertise for sealed proposals for a set of new issues.—[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

Not a single old soldier in the country will cast a ballot to make Vice-President a man who wrote that plank in the Democratic platform of 1864 declaring the war a failure.—[Washington (D. C.) Gazette.]

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat extends an invitation to Hon. B. Q. Mills to make a series of speeches on free trade in Missouri, and is under the impression that if he will only consent Missouri may go Republican.

If a man in business should place the management of his store in the hands of a rascally rival across the street, it would be about as wise as to let the British free-traders be allowed to enact a tariff law relating to the products of American industry.

LINCOLN'S FIRST SPEECH.
Abraham Lincoln's first political speech, when a candidate for the Illinois Legislature in 1832, was as follows: "Gentlemen, fellow-citizens, I presume you know who I am. I am humble Abraham Lincoln. I have been solicited by many friends to become a candidate for the Legislature. My politics can be briefly stated. I am in favor of the internal improvement, modern and a high protective tariff. These are my sentiments and political principles. If elected I shall be thankful; if not, it will be all the same."

A NURSERY RHYME.
Sing a song of sixpence,
A bagful of rye,
When a loaf is sold, then
What shall I buy?

Cloth that is English,
Tweeds that are Scotch,
Silks that are French, for Free trade to both.

Scotch, French and English
Get all the rye,
To make the proceeds,
And back home they fly.

Rye is all eaten,
Money's all theirs,
Yet the preacher frown when
The Yankee farmer swears.

[Judge.]

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

ICE ICE

Ice No Longer a Luxury in Los Angeles, Thanks to an Enterprising Company.
The inhabitants of this progressive and rapidly-growing city have another proof of the faith eastern capital has in its future. There has just been completed in this city the largest and best ice manufactory and cold storage buildings in the world, by the Los Angeles Cold Storage and Hendrick Ice companies. The ice-making capacity is 50 tons daily. Our competitors claim that cheapening the price of ice will not increase its consumption. We believe different. We believe that ice is wanted for the preservation, in private houses, of meats, milk, butter, vegetables, and fruit, and for the ice cream and other purposes, and that the exorbitant prices now in vogue here have prevented its general use. We are confident of your patronage, as we are the direct and only cause of the reduction in price.

In connection with our ice and cold-storage buildings we have erected large smoke-houses, and offer you, through the grocers and butchers, the only meats smoked here. They are better than those which are all have to be brought across the desert. Ask for our "Lily" hams and bacon. No skippers in them, no mould, full weight. Orders for ice may be sent to us through the grocer, or telephone 228, or orders sent to Messrs. C. & M. Dodsworth, General Managers.

BUSINESS.

Stocks and Bonds.

By Telegram to the Times.
New York, Aug. 23.—Money on call, easy at 1 1/2 per cent; offered 2 per cent.
Prime mercantile paper, 4 1/2 per cent.
Sterling exchange, dull and firmer at 4 1/2 per cent for 60-day bills, 4 3/4 per cent for demand.

New York, Aug. 23.—The stock market today was dull with small fluctuations, and, while strong in the early part of the day, lost the improvement toward the close. Northern Pacific preferred was strong, in consequence of the placing of bonds, being regarded as making it likely that a dividend may be declared upon the stock in the near future.

Government bonds dull but steady.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

There will be a meeting of delegates from all of the Republican clubs the city at 10 o'clock this afternoon.

Next week the Oro Fino will take steps to organize a club in each of the 438 voting precincts of the county.

R. H. Phelps was arrested yesterday afternoon, charged with striking his partner, K. C. Fordham, on the head with a leaded whip.

Harry Edwards, who pleaded guilty before Judge Cheney yesterday, was sentenced to two years in San Quentin Prison.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office, No. 6 Court street, for the following people: Frank Kennedy (2), J. R. Lapp, Richard Garvey, Sr., Justo Lezaya.

The ladies of the North Mission Church, on Bellevue avenue, will give an entertainment and serve tea and cake this evening, in the hall, in aid of the fund for the new church on Bellevue avenue.

The following passengers left for the north by yesterday's boat: Dr. L. C. Lane, J. A. Grant, J. H. Milet, M. G. Willard, D. M. Kennedy, L. M. Johnson, E. E. Burres, W. J. Evar, L. W. Johnson, R. C. Henson has sworn out a complaint of insanity against his mother, who until recently has lived at Long Beach. Mrs. Henson accused her son of stealing her furniture and misusing and neglecting her generally.

E. F. Kubel, correspondent of the San Francisco Examiner, filed his demurrer yesterday in the libel case of A. J. Lunt vs. the Examiner et al. for $2,000 damages. Haggin & Dible of San Francisco are attorneys for the defense.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon, the contracting parties being A. M. Shields and Miss Carrie Collins, both long and favorably known in this city. The young couple leave immediately for the Coronado, where they expect to spend their honeymoon.

There will be a lecture, accompanied by stereoscopic views of celebrated paintings and views in the Holy Land, at the Third Presbyterian Church, corner of Pine and Hill streets, this evening, by L. P. Armstrong, of the Pacific Theological Seminary, under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor.

Col. George Babcock, the prohibition orator, formerly of St. Louis and San Francisco, has again turned his attention to the law, and has opened an office in this city, at the corner of Fort and Second streets (California Bank building). The Colonel evidently thinks that Brother Beckstone is a more reliable stand-by than Brothers Fiske and Brooks.

AT PASADENA.

A Grand Republican Blow-out This Evening.

The Oro Fino Club will make an excursion to Pasadena this evening, where they will be entertained by the Pasadena Protection Cadets. Great preparations for the event have been made by the Pasadena boys. They made requisitions on the ladies for flowers and the result was several wagon loads, with which the rooms are to be gorgeously decorated.

The boys are to keep open house for the ladies during the afternoon with a band of music present and several watermelons and cantaloupes. A large number of the cadets of the evening will be a ratification of the ticket, with speeches from prominent Republicans and the organization of a club of Tippecanoe veterans. After the meeting there is to be a grand banquet to the Los Angeles boys and the Tippecanoe veterans. The Oro Fino log cabin is to be on hand, and the rolls to accompany it to Gen. Harrison will be open for signatures.

They Did His.

The Herald denies that Judge J. I. Redick was hissed in the late Democratic Convention, when, in nominating Capt. A. W. Barrett for Sheriff, he mentioned that the Captain is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. Well, there were hisses, all the same, and not only hisses, but yells, as other reporters besides those of THE TIMES will testify. The trouble is, that the Herald reporter was too busy giving directions to the Chairman to notice them. The same insult was repeated when Col. O. H. Violet was nominated for Justice of the Peace, and his connection with the Grand Army was mentioned.

I.O.O.F.

The General Executive Committee are very busy making preparations for their expected guests next month. Mr. Van Dusen, the secretary, received a letter yesterday from a party in Kansas, requesting him to secure accommodations for a party of 10 gentlemen and their wives from one town, another request from Iowa and another from Kentucky. Mr. Van Dusen wants to know whether the people are prepared to assist in the entertainment of their visitors. A mass-meeting of citizens, irrespective of order affiliations, is called for this evening at the Board of Trade rooms.

The King's Daughters.

A permanent place of meeting has at last been secured for the "King's Daughters." Prof. Hanna of the Los Angeles College for Young Ladies having generously proffered the use of one of the large recitation-rooms of that institution to the organization. Henceforth, therefore, the meetings of the "King's Daughters" will be held at the college, corner of Eighth and Hope streets.

The next meeting will be on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

All interested in the organization, men and women, are invited to be present.

THE THOMPSON GIRLS.

They Deny Any Irregularities in Their Conduct.

Maggie and June Thompson called at the Times office yesterday afternoon, and requested that certain statements published by papers of the city relative to their family difficulties be contradicted.

"In the first place," said Maggie, "I did not cause the death of my father. He died of consumption, and, I killed him, I must have killed seven of his family, for they all died of the same disease. As for mother, she has been sick with inflammatory rheumatism for seven months. She was brought home from the hospital yesterday, and we girls are taking care of her. Then I want you to say that we have not been running around at night, and I haven't taken June to any improper places at all. This whole trouble comes from my brother, who is jealous because father left me the larger share of his property. We are all living in the same house still—my brother and his wife upstairs."

Miss June, who was with her sister, said nothing, but apparently concurred in what was said. Miss June is a handsome girl, in her teens, with a heavy growth of dark hair and a self-contained air. Maggie is of a more pronounced blonde type and would be an object of general attention on the street. Maggie admitted that she had had money from her father, but denied that she squandered it.

A TESTIMONIAL.

From the Main and Agricultural Park Railroad.

We have used Dr. Flyn's Blood Purifier for the horse and his maid's Liment for about two years. These medicines have been constantly in use for the treatment of indigestion, lameness and otherwise injured animals and have been found to be of great value. We are not without them and cheerfully recommend them to the owners of horses. E. M. Lorick, Sycamore, Cal.

The I. O. O. F. Convocation.

HEADQUARTERS OF I. O. O. F. GENERAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

BOARD OF TRADE ROOMS.

LOS ANGELES (Cal.), Aug. 24, 1888.

To the Public of Los Angeles: As you are undoubtedly aware, the convocation of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will occur in this city on Monday, the 11th of September, proximo, and it is expected that we will be honored by the presence of a large number of representative men from every State and Territory in the Union, from the British North American possessions, England, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Prussia, France, Spain, Cuba, South America, Australia, Mexico, the Sandwich Islands, and, in fact, every part of the world in which there is a Grand Lodge of the order.

It behooves us, as hosts, to accord to our expected guests a genuine California welcome, and this committee wishes the advice and counsel of all our citizens, irrespective of order affiliations, as to the best manner of procedure in the premises.

Californians have the reputation of being the most hospitable people in the world, and we feel that it is our duty to endeavor to sustain and keep unblemished this reputation.

This is an event in the history of this State that has occurred but once, and will not occur again in at least a half century. Last year the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the State and Territory of Colorado met in Denver, Col., and the residents of that city and State considered the honor of so much importance that the Governor of the State, with his staff, although not a member of the order, met the visiting Odd Fellows at the State hotel, and accompanied them to the hospitality of the State.

The Mayor of Denver (who also did not belong to the order) welcomed them in these words: "Gentlemen, as Mayor of Denver, I cheerfully extend to you the freedom of the city. I can do anything for you, collectively or individually, do not hesitate to command me."

In an issue of the Denver Republican of September 22, 1887, the following statement occurs in reference to the grand parade: "The Odd Fellows had the freedom of the city yesterday. It was the culmination of the great gathering in Denver. More than 50,000 persons witnessed the grand parade, and their enthusiasm was unbounded. Representatives of the whole Nation were in line," etc.

This is only a small index of what we are to expect, and this committee have decided to call a mass meeting of the business men of this city, to convene at the Board of Trade rooms, on Friday evening, the 24th inst., for consultation with this committee in reference to this matter.

Will you have the kindness to be present with us, and advance your views in reference to the best methods to be pursued to make the stay of our visitors pleasant and profitable. I might say that several excursions are in contemplation, and we would like your views thereon. CHARLES E. GAULT, Chairman.

H. V. VAN DUSEN, Secretary.
